

2023 Adventures In Stamping Classes

Friday, April 28

9am - 11am

"Beach Babes Lever Card Class"

Instructor: Tonya Weakley – Peddlers Den

In this humorous, technique driven class, you will stamp, mask, stencil and color. You will use clear stamps, and our basic (whimsical) cloud stencil. Once all the stamping and stenciling is complete, you will be coached to color and blend using color pencils. You will keep both of the clear stamp sets you use. You may need to finish your coloring at home.

Supplies to bring to class: Scissors, a black dye ink pad, color pencils with sharpener, adhesive, pencil, pink eraser, acrylic blocks and /or platform. If you have it, bring a VersaMark pad, but don't buy on for the class. We recommend Prismacolor pencils, but any high quality, soft pigment pencils should work. If you need to preorder, we sell the colors individually. Contact Tonya, and ask for the class bundle price. Tonya@peddlersden.com or phone 256-660-0999

"A Touch of Color"

Instructor: Christine O'Malley

I have a new and unique class for those who enjoy adding color to their images. I will guide you through the basics of coloring with alcohol markers and colored pencils. I will share my tips for blending with each coloring medium. I have chosen a selection of images for us to practice and learn with. Due to the short class time, we will focus will be on technique. Images can easily be turned into cards at a later time. Our in-person class time is just two hours, but learning continues when the class is over. My experience when taking classes is you get a ton of information thrown at you. When you get home, it is difficult to remember it all. Each class participant will get access to videos with reminders of key information, so they can recreate the techniques at home.

In class we will focus on:

- What materials do you need to be successful with each coloring medium
- Instructional section on how to color and blending with alcohol markers
- Instructional section on blending and steps to getting a professional finish to colored pencils.
- Learn the how to combine both mediums to get the most of your coloring supplies.

Supplies to bring to class: favorite adhesive, scissors, bag/ envelope for colored images.

Bring what colored pencils or alcohol markers you have.

12pm - 2pm

“Gel Plate Backgrounds”

Instructor: Tonya Weakley – Peddlers Den

When you use Gel Plates, each piece is unique. No two will ever be the same. This is a technique that requires the artist to be fluid and flexible in their expectations. There are oodles of techniques you can use, each giving you different results. In this class we will explore the basics. You will make a variety of backgrounds, using various techniques, and then we will help you turn one of those into a finished card. Your results WILL BE different than the samples shown. You will be using images from our Utopia World fantasy collection.

Supplies to bring to class: Students must bring an onyx black VersaFine pad (the small cube is plenty), as well as some acrylic blocks, adhesive, a glitter pen (we recommend Sakura Gelly Roll), two dye ink pads from the same or complimentary color family (i.e., 2 blue, 2 greens, etc.), baby wipes and couple of blending or stipple brushes. If you choose to bring a platform, I recommend that you ALSO bring at least one medium size acrylic block. We will provide acrylic paints, but if there is a color group that you prefer, bring your paints as well. You will be offered a limited color palette that will be shared with your group. Any crafters acrylic paint should work. Optional: acrylic paints pens and gel pens can be used to boost or add color.

“Sending a Smile”

Instructor: Christine O’Malley

My favorite type of card to make is one that makes the recipient laugh. We all need more laughter in our lives. More and more companies are releasing silly/snarky stamps. Just as telling a joke takes some skill... designing cards with humor is a technique of its own. I’ll share some design ideas and tips I use to deliver a punch line. Join us for a fun, laughter filled class that will have your family and friends rolling on the floor. I will do a lot of prep work, so we can get the most out of class time. In class we will focus on:

- Card Design tips for snarky/silly cards
- Selecting and Formatting stamps to have maximize the punch line
- Tips to help find Silly/Snarky stamps and images to go with them.
- This class is meant to be a lot of fun and meet other like-minded stampers
- Many images require coloring. I’m glad to help share coloring tips as we work through some cards.

Supplies to bring to class: favorite adhesive, dimensional adhesive, scissors, bags or envelopes for cards, colored pencils or alcohol markers, and a sense of humor. All coloring mediums welcome. Christine will be using alcohol markers.

“Simply Stencils”

Instructor: Christine O’Malley

Stencils have made a comeback in the stamping world. Stencils are becoming more and more detailed and ingenious. Come join us as we use two different innovative stencil sets to make 8 cards at the same time. In class we will take away any confusion that surrounds these stencils. The best part is you will come away with 8 cards. Our in-person class time is just two hours, but learning continues when the class is over. My experience when taking classes is you get a ton of information thrown at you. When you get home, it is difficult to remember it all. Each class participant will get access photos, and alternate color combinations if they want to recreate the cards at home.

Our class time will focus on:

- Instructional section on how these stencils work
- We will make a set of Birthday (4 cards) and Snowflake (4 cards) Cards for a total of 8 cards.
- I will provide ideas on how to embellish stenciled cards. Everyone works at a different pace this part might have to be finished at home. Each student will have access to photos of finished cards as well as alternate ideas if they choose to recreate them.

Supplies to bring to class: preferred adhesive for card making, dimensional dots, if you have portable paper trimmer it would be helpful (I will bring a few), and scissors, and bags or envelopes for cards.

“Getting Scrappy”

Instructor: Christine O’Malley

Are your drawers overflowing with scraps? It can be overwhelming to keep up with them. It feels wasteful to throw them away. Turn those scraps into impressive cards. I love this technique because it can create elegant or playful cards. It is very versatile. Our in-person class time is just two hours, but learning continues when the class is over. My experience when taking classes is you get a ton of information thrown at you. When you get home, it is difficult to remember it all. Each class participant will get access to videos with reminders of key information, so they can recreate the techniques at home. I will do a lot of prep work, so we can get the most out of class time.

Our class time will focus on:

- How to cut the stripes to work for this technique.
- How to assemble the strips to create a floating panel
- Creating a Bargello pattern.
- Using die cuts, and two different stamping methods to finish cards.
- Reminder video will be available so you can recreate all of the above techniques.

Supplies to bring to class: liquid glue with fine tip nozzle, if you have a portable cutting Board (please bring it), white gel pen, dimensional dots, scissors, bags or envelopes for cards. Bring colored pencils/alcohol markers.
